ANDREA BROWN

Andrea has significant experience of the business world. She initially worked in the fast moving consumer goods industry in logistics, sales & marketing and later moved into recruitment and selection where, among other issues, she advised businesses on employment contract matters. The business acumen and experience she gained over nearly 20 years inspired her to retrain as a Workplace & Interpersonal Mediator with UK Mediation in 2011. She also gained a qualification as a Family Mediator in 2012. Over the past 5 years Andrea has specialised in workplace mediation and has successfully mediated many complex workplace disputes between both teams and individuals within a broad spectrum of public sector and private organisations.
